Residual Employability Assessment

Employability assessments are important in determining the earning capacity of your injured client.

Our expert report incorporates a psychological and functional screen included in the vocational evaluation to assess how post-injury symptoms and restrictions will impact your client's post-injury employability.

You will work with our court-qualified team of Vocational Evaluators who set the industry standard for excellence.

Put our expertise to work for you.

VOCATIONAL LITIGATION SOLUTIONS INC.

We are vocational litigation specialists.

As Vocational experts, we examine functional baselines when reviewing the feasibility of employment sustainability and post-injury occupational options.

Our Residual Employability Assessment incorporates a functional baseline screening which is conducted by a Matheson-trained therapist and provides a review of the client's physical capacity in four major areas: strength, mobility, dexterity and functional movement.

Our evaluation methodology is rigorous and second to none. We provide a comprehensive examination of all aspects of your client's case and are constantly innovating to ensure our assessment reports for litigation remain the gold standard in the industry.
