

November 15, 2019

Dear Colleague,

Are you concerned about the changing medical-legal landscape? We have a solution.

We are vocational rehabilitation specialists with several years of experience providing comprehensive assessments of your clients' residual employability post accident or injury.

On September 1st we launched a new product - the Residual Employability Assessment - that opines on three domains.

Here's what you need to know:

1. Employability assessments are important in determining the earning capacity of your injured client.
2. Our expert report incorporates a psychological and functional screen included in the vocational evaluation to assess how post-injury symptoms and restrictions will impact your client's post injury employability.
3. As Vocational Experts, we examine functional baselines when reviewing the feasibility of employment sustainability and post-injury occupational options. Our functional baseline screening is conducted by a Matheson-trained therapist and provides a review of the client's physical capacity in four major areas: strength, mobility, dexterity, and functional movement.

Call us at 604 877 1200 or send us an email admin@vocationalsolutions.ca for more information and to make a booking.

Thank you for your continued support. We appreciate your business.

Yours very truly,

Dr. Dean C. Powers, Psy.D, ABVE/D, CVRP
President and Vocational Consultant
Vocational Litigation Solutions Inc.

Put our expertise to work for you.